Venue

Hotel Hyatt Regency
Weikfield IT Park
Nagar Road, Pune

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Greetings from the Neurological Society of Pune!!

We are privileged to host the Annual ICTRIMS Conference in 2026. This is the 15th meeting of ICTRIMS and, over the years, it has created a niche for itself in context to Central Demyelinating and Auto-Immune Neurological Diseases.

Neurological society of Pune had the pleasure of arranging IANCON 2011 and STROKECON 2012 which were highly successful meetings attended by Neurologists from all over the country. Our Society is also known for its biennial "Approach Meets" where we focus on scientific approach to various clinical presentations and bringing clinical research to actual practice. This kind of meeting is very unique and is highly appreciated by our Neurology colleagues.

At ICTRIMS 2026, we plan to keep few sessions with the same pattern focussing on approach to various clinical presentations. The Scientific Program promises to be very interesting with confirmed participation from eminent international speakers who are leaders from their respective fields.

Please mark your dates and don't miss this educational feast!!

We are looking forward to welcoming you all at ICTRIMS 2026!!

International Faculty

Prof. Xavier Montalban

Prof. Montalban completed his MD and PhD in Neuroimmunology, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, Spain. He is currently Director, CEMCAT, Multiple Sclerosis Center of Catalonia, Vall d'Hebron University Hospital, Barcelona, Spain, and Professor of Neurology, UAB, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, Barcelona, Spain. He is also the Coordinator, Neuroimmunology, VHIR, Vall d'Hebron University Hospital Research Institute, Barcelona, Spain. Prof. Montalban has been in the inception phases and on steering committees of many clinical trials as an expert and key opinion leader in Multiple Sclerosis. He has authored over 750 original and revision publications in International peer-reviewed journals as well as several book chapters.

Prof. Hans-Peter Hartung

Prof. Hartung received his undergraduate training at the Universities of Düsseldorf, Glasgow, Oxford and London. He is currently Professor of Neurology at Heinrich-Heine-University Düsseldorf, Honorary Professor, Brain and Mind Center, University of Sydney, Visiting Professor at Medical University Vienna and Palacky University Olomouc. His research interests are Pathogenesis of Autoimmune diseases of the central and peripheral nervous system (MS, GBS, CIDP) Development of regenerative therapies for inflammatory, ischemic and traumatic insults to the nervous system. Development of new Immunomodulatory therapies for MS, GBS, CIDP and identification of biomarkers of disease activity, prognosis, therapeutic response.

Prof. Cristina Granziera

Prof. Cristina Granziera obtained an MD at Padova University Medical School (Padova, Italy) in 2001, a Ph.D. in Neuroscience at Lausanne University (Lausanne, Switzerland) in 2007, and the Swiss Neurology board in 2010. Currently, she works as a senior consultant neurologist at the University Hospital of Basel, as a professor in neurology and biomedical engineering at the University of Basel, and as co-CEO of the "Research Center for Clinical Neuroimmunology and Neuroscience Basel (RC2NB)" in Basel. The focus of Prof. Granziera's research is the investigation of the pathogenesis of neuroinflammatory and cerebrovascular diseases - such as multiple sclerosis, neuroHIV, migraine, and stroke- using state-of-the-art neuroimaging methods.

International Faculty

Prof. Paulus S Rommer

Prof. Paulus Rommer is an Associate Professor of Neurology at Department of Neurology, Medical University of Vienna, Austria. Prof. Rommer attended the Medical University of Vienna and the Vienna University of Economics and Business. His career includes a variety of roles across multiple institutions. His research focuses heavily on multiple sclerosis (MS), Neuromyelitis Optica Spectrum Disorder (NMOSD), and other Neuroimmunological diseases. His work on reviewing and developing treatment strategies for MS and NMOSD, including the “ use of Monoclonal Antibodies and Immunotherapies ” is published in various scientific journals.

Prof. Sarosh Irani

Prof. Sarosh Irani is Professor of Neurology at Mayo Clinic, Jacksonville, Florida USA and leads a research team studying Autoimmune Neurological diseases. He is instrumental in recognising clinical features, particularly Faciobrachial Dystonic Seizures, in people with LGI1 and CASPR2 autoantibodies. He has described distinctive movement disorders and psychopathological features related to NMDAR - Antibody Encephalitis. He also highlighted the evidence supporting the importance of early Immunotherapy in patients with Autoimmune Neurological diseases. His work also includes finding Autoreactive B cells from the blood, tumors and lymph nodes of people with Autoimmune Encephalitis and Neuromyelitis Optica.

Prof. Mariana Spatola

Prof. Spatola is a Neurologist and R2B researcher at IDIBAPS, Hospital Clinic, and PhD director of 3 students at the University of Barcelona, Spain. Her research aims to understand the contribution of antibodies and innate immunity to the pathogenesis of Autoimmune Encephalitis, and the role of viruses and other pathogens in triggering brain Autoimmunity. Her research has been funded by several governmental and private agencies (currently including the “Junior Leader” by la Caixa Foundation and FIS grant by the Spanish National Health Institute) The outstanding nature of her research has been recognized by several awards (Neurovirology award in 2021, Faculty prize in 2018, Top Science in 2023)

Highlights of the Conference

The Scientific Program

- 3 days meeting with brainstorming and stimulating sessions
- Illustrious national and international speakers
- Lectures on translation of understanding of Immunopathogenesis into treatment
- New concepts about Multiple Sclerosis Pathophysiology, NMOSD and MOGAD
- Novel MRI concepts to diagnose and monitor Multiple Sclerosis
- Revolutionary paradigm shift in the treatment of Multiple Sclerosis
- Autoimmune Encephalitis, Dementia and Epilepsy, covering the emerging Antibodies
- Neuro-Rheumatology
- Interactive Sessions to help you in decision making in daily practice
